Amicus – Amicus Workplace Equality Reps Development Project

The project seeks to form an integral part of the Amicus Equality Strategy, this project facilitates implementation of equality representatives within the union's workplace, administrative and democratic structures in the two year transitional period facilitating full integration with the TGWU. The project will facilitate the development of 400 members of the union as equality reps; ensure they have access to training; recognition by their employer, recognition by the union and communication tools.

Public and Commercial Services Union (PCS) – Equality Representatives

The project seeks to revitalise the recruitment, training, development and support we provide for our local equality representatives. It will raise their profile and status while at the same time equipping them with the skills, knowledge & experience to change the workplace into a more diverse and less discriminatory place.

General Federation of Trade Unions (GFTU) – Trade Union Leadership Development

The project aims to develop existing and future leaders of the GFTU and its affiliates to transform union's cultures and structures to include, develop and empower women and BME leaders. This will be achieved via a programme of research, training and dissemination.

Equity – Get In On the Act: increasing participation among Equity members

The project seeks to increase participation of Members in the union and activism. This will be delivered through: taking the union to the Members and increasing engagement and participation; stimulating interest in the traditional and developing areas of Equity's work; reinvigorating the democratic structures such as Specialist Committees and developing new roles such as Equality Reps and Equity Ambassadors; overhauling voting processes; engaging better with Student and younger Members to give them a voice in the union.

Nautilus UK- Lay and Full-Time Officials Training Course

The project seeks to fund a training programme, in conjunction with Ruskin College, to equip all their officials and over 100 lay reps with the skills necessary to represent members in the global market place.
